

Guilford County
Family Justice Center
One Safe Place: Many Partners, United Mission

ELDER JUSTICE COMMITTEE TRAINING SERIES PRESENTS:

OVERCOMING BARRIERS THROUGH A SYSTEMIC RESPONSE TO ELDER ABUSE

WHEN

Friday, November 20, 2015
12:30 pm - 3:30 pm

WHERE

Elon Law School– Room 206
201 N. Greene St.
Greensboro, NC 27401

Understanding common barriers to addressing elder abuse can help to create a culture of safety and support. Paul Greenwood is internationally known for his work in prosecuting elder abuse crimes. His message is powerful and his trainings are dynamic and motivating. Last year, Mr. Greenwood came to Greensboro and presented this topic. Due to its impact and importance, the Elder Justice Committee has decided to host a viewing of the presentation. The video presentation will include opportunities for audience discussion as we continue our work in understanding elder abuse and how to support victims in our community. The training will provide an overview of elder abuse and aging, discuss common myths associated with providing services to aging adults, and will offer tools for how communities can best respond to cases of elder abuse.

COST: FREE

Lunch will be provided.

CLE and CEU credits available.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

Professionals and community members working with elder abuse and victims of domestic and sexual violence

REGISTRATION

Please confirm your Attendance no later than Tuesday, November 17th by emailing Angelina Meeks, FJC Administrative Assistant at ameeks@co.guilford.nc.us

SPONSORS

Guilford County Family Justice Center
Elder Justice Committee

Elon University
School of Law